

377-383 Sussex Street SYDNEY, NSW

An Office Building with Powerful Connections

Mercer Property is pleased to present to the market for lease offices within 377-383 Sussex Street, Sydney.

This address on Sussex Street has played host to some powerful tenants over the years. Many a deal would have been struck over a long lunch at some of the neighbouring restaurant institutions that surround the building.

The building is also a mid-century icon. Uncompromising in its modernist stylings, the facade is a tight grid of concrete and glass. The architecture underscores that this is not a place for the faint of heart.

With retail on the ground floor, the building has 10 levels of offices, ranging in size from 40sqm to 650sqm. Upper floors have city skyline views, with a range of fitouts available ??? from open plan to partitioned offices.

377-383 Sussex Street has quick, easy access to George St light rail, as well as Town Hall and Central train stations. And when you want to stay in the city, Chinatown, Darling Quarter and World Square Retail Centre are all close by.
